This Edition's Spotlight is on – Maricopa County Parks and Recreation

Maricopa County is home to one of the largest regional parks systems in the nation with more than 120,000 acres of open space parks that include hundreds of miles of trails, campgrounds, nature centers and the Desert Outdoor Environmental Learning Center at Lake Pleasant. There are also 10 regional parks in the system. Whether you're planning on hiking along a barrier-free trail, enjoying the scenic Sonoran Desert views on horseback, or peddling rigorously up a trail on a mountain bike, the parks offer a variety of opportunities for all types of users, ages and comfort levels. Best of all, Maricopa County's regional parks are all within a 45-minute drive from downtown Phoenix! <https://www.maricopacountyparks.net/>. #Bicycling #Children's Activities #Exercise #Hiking #Lecture #Night Life #Outdoor Activities #Running #Travel #Visiting Parks #Walking

Tour Downtown Phoenix's Historic Homes

The Phoenix Historic Neighborhoods Coalition produced a self-guided Driving Tour Map that invites people to visit the historic neighborhoods. It is a grass roots product, conceived, designed, illustrated and distributed by a small group of Coalition members. The map provides locations and information about architectural styles for each of the 35 historic districts. The widely distributed map is popular with folks who are unfamiliar with the historic neighborhoods in the heart of the city. Coalition members are proud of their educational effort which has received an Arizona Heritage Preservation Honor Award. Contact Marge McCue at (602) 253-5579 or PhxHNC@Gmail.com to receive a Driving Tour Map. Phoenix Historic Neighborhoods Coalition \(phxhnc.com\). #Culture #Education

Through September 24: Park After Dark

Park After Dark, in Downtown Tempe, is back for the summer! Enjoy live music, outdoor entertainment, cold drinks and good times. 2nd and 4th Saturday of each month, 7-10 p.m., 6th Street Park, 24 E 6th St, Tempe, AZ 85281, <https://www.downtowntempe.com/events/park-after-dark>. #Music #Outdoor Activities #Parks

Through September 25: New Earthworks

New Earthworks presents work by eight contemporary artists exploring our interconnectedness with the Earth. Artists David Brooks, Carolina Caycedo, Desert Artlab (April Bojorquez and Matt Garcia), Hope Ginsburg, Scott Hocking, Mary Mattingly, Sam Van Aken and Steven Yazzie take on issues of biodiversity and environmental equity, reassert Indigenous knowledge and envision new systems to address climate change. The dialectic of site-specific and gallery locations, inclusive experience and discrete objects, provides an array of chances to rethink our understanding of the Earth and propose new modalities at a time when it has never been more pressing to do so. September 21-October 23: Bandstand

After the ticker tape parades cease, will musical glory bring hope, purpose and redemption for a group of World War II veterans? Donny Novitski returns home from WWII in 1945 to parades and celebrations in his small town of Ohio, but, amongst the festivity, he feels lost. Deciding to return to his love of music and life as a pianist, Donny forms a band with veterans who also feel the lingering effects of war and together they enter a national swing band competition. But when he meets Julia – the widow of his best friend during the war – questions of survival on and off the battlefield arise and she joins the musicians as they seek recognition for their musical talents. Bandstand is a victorious and jazzy story of America's heroes who find home, purpose, and belonging within the rhythmic beats of swing, bebop, and jitterbug. Experience five of National Geographic's top photographers, filmmakers, and adventurers as they share behind–the–scenes stories live onstage.

- October 19: Mesoamerica Illuminated–Discover how the iconic Olmec heads of Mexico were created, explore the true meaning behind the imposing Teotihuacan pyramids, and get a peek into the culture and daily life in the Mayan city of Chichen Itza. Join art historian and microarcheologist Dr. Diana Magaloni–Kerpel as she brings ancient Mesoamerican civilizations to life in a way you've never seen before.
- November 16: Coral Kingdoms and Empires of Ice–Join David and his wife and underwater partner, photojournalist Jennifer Hayes as they explore the rich and diverse waters of Kimbe Bay, Papua New Guinea, part of the “coral triangle.” Together, they'll go beyond the published stories to share the reality of their behind–the–camera adventures.
- January 18: Adaptation–Explore the remarkable ways people around the world are adapting to our changing planet with environmental anthropologist and filmmaker Alizé Carrère. From the floating gardens of Bangladesh to the ice pyramids of northern India, Carrère offers a hopeful look at the resilience, perseverance, and innovation of humankind under even the most difficult of conditions.
- March 22: T. Rex Rises–How did T. rex become the iconic apex predator of North America 67 million years ago? Paleontologist Dr. Lindsay Zanno is uncovering the answer. Each year she spends several months on expedition, scouring the badlands of western North America in search of clues. Join Dr. Zanno for a fascinating look at how a global climate crisis during the Cretaceous changed the course of evolution for this prehistoric tyrant and its ancestors.
- April 12: Improbable Ascent–Paraclimber Maureen Beck learned how to rock climb one–handed through trial and error–one of her early adaptive climbing innovations involved taping a metal ladle to her arm. It wasn't long before she was tackling some of the hardest climbs by a one–handed athlete, securing two world championships in the process. With her trademark humor and wit, this 2019 National Geographic Adventurer of the Year will chronicle her journey as one of the foremost leaders in the sport of paraclimbing.
